POTTY TRAINING PERILS

"Potty training is 98% asking a toddler if they have to go to the potty, them saying "no", and then them peeing everywhere 2 minutes later."

-@KidsAreDorks

LETTER FROM THE OWNER

It's hard to believe that September is upon us and that school is already back in session! However, as sad as we are to see summer go, we are so excited for the changes and new adventures that come with the fall. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts for being part of our village and for sharing your time and memories with us. Cheers to changing leaves and all of the future fun to be had!

Sincerely,
Sara Martino
